Mission/Vision of the School of Education

We ignite learning. We strive for well-being for all. We teach. We commit to student, family, and community success. We commit to educational equity. We advocate. We work for justice. We cultivate relationships. We forge engaged partnerships. We collaborate. We learn with and from communities. We innovate and agitate. We pursue and produce knowledge. We research. We disrupt and transform inequitable educational structures. We approach learning as intertwined with health, wellness, and human development. We address how national, global, social, and technological change impacts learning. We shape practice and policy. We teach with and for dignity. We think. We dream. We lead with integrity. We are the School of Education at the University of Pittsburgh.

Doctor of Education (EdD)

The University of Pittsburgh is a center for excellence in professional programs, and the School of Education school-wide Doctor of Education (EdD) program is grounded in this commitment to excellence. The program prepares working professionals to become leader scholar practitioners to develop specialized knowledge in their area of concentration and apply their intellectual and practical skills to address and mitigate enduring problems affecting children, families, and communities.

Course

I. Rationale:

This course is one of four HPA ARCO courses required in the EdD program of study. The course is intended to develop basic skills related to health promotion, specifically physical activity and nutrition, program design and evaluation. However, the information and tools learned in this class can be applied to a host of other health-related topic areas of interest.

II. Description:

This course studies evidence-based lifestyle program design and evaluation for diverse priority populations in homes, workplaces, schools, communities, and healthcare institutions. In the course, you will analyze the evidence-based physical activity and nutrition research for its application and utilization in the provision of higher quality, more efficient, and less expensive health promotion and health care to individuals and populations. The course examines how public health evidence informs changes in health programs and how practitioners, institutions, and organizations make programmatic decisions.

III. Course Aims and Outcomes:

Aims

This course is designed to provide you with requisite tools and analytical constructs to use evidence to design health programs and evaluate them based on evidence.

Specific Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course, you will:

1. Gain knowledge of evidence-based health promotion, specifically physical activity and nutrition, program design and evaluation across levels of the Social Ecological Model (individual, interpersonal, organizational/institutional, community/societal)
2. Conduct relevant literature searches using key search terms
3. Read and synthesize research articles to populate evidence tables
4. Weigh/grade the evidence according to set/standardized criteria
5. Understand how to use evidence from the published literature to inform healthy lifestyle program design for diverse priority populations
6. Evaluate healthy lifestyle programs based on evidence of what works in the published literature

IV. Doctoral Requirements:

No EdD Benchmarks will be met throughout our time in this course. However, over the course of the semester, you should continue to meet with your advisor to refine your Problem of Practice.

V. Format and Procedures:

Online Course Format: This is a hybrid course with four in-person meetings (one Saturday per month) and asynchronous weekly readings, activities, and assignments between classes on Canvas (<https://canvas.pitt.edu>; see Course Schedule for details). It is expected that you will come to class prepared and ready to engage the materials and your colleagues. During asynchronous times, it is expected that you will complete and upload assignments in accordance with the dates outlined in the Course Schedule section of this syllabus. In addition to the class time outlined in the schedule, you are expected to spend an additional 12 hours outside of the daily class time in active exploration of resources, reading, and completing assignments. Additionally, you can expect to spend time preparing for class by reading, studying, and completing assignments.

Attendance: It is expected that all students are present at every in-person Saturday class. See the complete attendance policy later in this document. You are expected to come to class and participate in online modules having completed all readings and assignments by the deadlines set forth on Canvas. This is an advanced-level course, and you are expected to evidence willingness to demonstrate that level of commitment. Minimal engagement will not be sufficient at this level of study. Over the semester, you will also be asked to participate by means of providing written or verbal feedback to peers on assignments and in-class presentation of evidence tables.

Feedback: Feedback is essential for high quality learning and teaching. Therefore, as your instructor, I am committed to giving you quality, individual feedback so that you can improve your learning on future assignments. In this class, my goal is to provide feedback on each assignment within 2 weeks after submission.

VI. Course Requirements:

1. Course readings and where they are available:

(a) Fertman, C. I., & Grim, M. L. (Eds.). (2022). Health promotion programs : from theory to practice (Third edition.). John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

Paperback copy available via Course Reserves at Pitt's Hillman Library for 2-hours at a time.

- NOTE: The 2nd edition (2016) is available online through the Pitt library:
https://pitt.primo.exlibrisgroup.com/permalink/01PITT\_INST/i25aoe/cdi\_askewsholts\_vlebooks\_9781119163350

(b) Additional assigned readings will be posted on Canvas within weekly Module folders.

2. Assessments of Learning

A. Discussion Forums (50 points)

You will be required to respond to instructor-led prompts related to the readings and post subjects, comment, and discuss accordingly on those posted by peers on Canvas. There will be approximately 10 discussion boards over the semester worth 5 points each. Specific due dates will be posted on Canvas. The instructor will observe the quality and quantity of student participation in class and online and will offer feedback as appropriate.

B. Evidence Tables and Statements (70 points)

You will complete a “scholarly synthesis and critique” of published and Internet-accessible studies in the form of two separate Evidence Tables and Statements focusing on a topic in: (1) physical activity, (2) nutrition or (3) other agreed upon health-related topic related to your problem of practice. You will select topics and research questions based on your area of expertise and emerging Problem of Practice. You will present the results of the evidence tables both orally and in written form. These assignments will be evaluated based upon several key criteria, and you will be provided with a rubric in advance as a guide in formulating these documents.

Final Evidence Statements are to reflect:

- a. An examination of relevant, recent literature (preferably in last 5 years).
- b. A critical analysis of the evidence.
- c. Conclusions and recommendations aligned with the body of evidence.
- d. Quality, organizational coherence, and effectiveness of written document.

C. Final Intervention Proposal (35 points)

Final Intervention Proposal papers will be due by Sunday December 10. You will be writing a final intervention proposal based upon ONE of your evidence tables and summary statements. This final intervention proposal will synthesize information gleaned over the semester from assignments, discussion boards, lectures, etc. The goal of this assignment is for you to demonstrate the ability to weigh the state of the evidence and identify gaps in the literature, understand how to use this evidence to inform theory-driven, health promotion program design, and develop a rigorous and well-thought-out evaluation plan. Each paper will be approximately 3-5 pages in length, single-spaced, using Times New Roman 12-point font.

VII. Grading Procedures:

Grading Scale:

%	Letter Grade	%	Letter Grade
97-100	A+	77-79	C+
94-96	A	74-76	C
90-93	A-	70-73	C-
87-89	B+	60-69	D
84-86	B	59 or below	F
80-83	B-

G grades and I grades. Under certain conditions you may receive a “G” or an “I” grade for the course. The Graduate Catalog explains the difference between two kinds of Incompletes: the G grade and the I grade as:

G Grade: The G grade signifies unfinished course work due to extenuating personal circumstances. Students assigned G grades are required to complete course requirements no later than one year after the term in which the course was taken. After the deadline has passed, the G grade will remain on the record, and the student will be required to reregister for the course if it is needed to fulfill requirements for graduation.

I Grade: The I grade signifies incomplete course work due to nature of the course, clinical work, or incomplete research work in individual guidance courses or seminars.

As of August 16, 2018, G grades after one year automatically become non-changeable NG grades (no credit, no impact on grade point average).

Policies and Tips

Attendance: Regular and prompt attendance in the Saturday class sessions is an essential part of the educational experience in the EdD program. Each course meets only four times throughout the term – missing one of those sessions constitutes a significant portion of the time for face-to-face interaction with instructors and peers.

Although students are expected to attend all Saturday class sessions, working professionals sometimes find themselves in circumstances that cause them to miss these class meetings. Exceptions may be made for a required work-related commitment, illness, or valid emergency. In such cases, students need to contact the course instructor to determine if there is any way to make up missed classwork.

If you are going to be absent for class because of a required work-related commitment, illness or valid emergency, please follow the following instructions:

1. Email the course instructor, copying your advisor, with the reason for missing the class.
2. Complete the course- or instructor-specific make-up requirements for missed classes prior to the next class meeting.
3. Adhere to the acceptable reasons for missing class outlined in the policy above. Please note that they do not include vacation and/or personal events.

Course Format: HYBRID

A hybrid course is not a reduced-time course. According to the University's definition of a credit hour, a one-credit course should have 14 contact hours, where a contact hour is 50 minutes of instruction. Thus a 3-credit course should have 2100 minutes of instruction (50 minutes/hour x 14 hours x 3 credits = 42 hours), and a two-credit course has 1400 minutes or 28 hours of Instruction.

In addition, students are expected to spend a minimum of 1.5 hours outside of class for each in-class hour. Therefore, you need to spend  $1.5 \times 28$  course hours = 42 hours across 11 weeks, in addition to the core of 28 hours. This includes reading, completing weekly exercises, and working on graded assignments.

Use of Technology: This course uses a Canvas web site provided through the University. To access this, go to <http://canvas.pitt.edu> and log on using your Pitt username and password. Or, you can go to www.my.pitt.edu and access the Canvas site there. For help logging onto the course, call 412-624-HELP. This help is available 24/7. The instructor cannot assist you with log-on problems.

Statement on Classroom Recording

To ensure the free and open discussion of ideas, students may not record classroom lectures, discussion and/or activities without the advance written permission of the instructor, and any such recording properly approved in advance can be used solely for the student's own private use.

Accessibility

The Canvas LMS platform was built using the most modern HTML and CSS technologies, and is committed to W3C's Web Accessibility Initiative and Section 508 guidelines. Specific details regarding individual feature compliance are documented and updated regularly.

Copyright Notice

These materials may be protected by copyright. United States copyright law, 17 USC section 101, et seq., in addition to University policy and procedures, prohibit unauthorized duplication or retransmission of course materials.

See Library of Congress Copyright Office and the University Copyright Policy.

Email Communication

Each student is issued a University e-mail address (username@pitt.edu) upon admittance. This e-mail address may be used by the University for official communication with students. Students are expected to read e-mail sent to this account on a regular basis. Failure to read and react to University communications in a timely manner does not absolve the student from knowing and complying with the content of the communications. The University provides an e-mail forwarding service that allows students to read their e-mail via other service providers (e.g., gmail, iCloud). Students that choose to forward their e-mail from their pitt.edu address to another address do so at their own risk. If e-mail is lost as a result of forwarding, it does not absolve the student from responding to official communications sent to their University e-mail address.

Incomplete Grades: For this course, an “I” (Incomplete) Grade will be granted only if the student has actively attended to the course requirements but needs extended time to complete the required work to meet minimum expectations. If an Incomplete grade becomes necessary, the instructors will require you to propose a plan of action outlining how you will complete the work within no more than one term from the end of the course (and preferably a shorter period of time).

Statement on Scholarly Discourse

In this course we will be discussing complex issues of which all of us have strong feelings and, in most cases, unfounded attitudes. It is essential that we approach this endeavor with our minds open to evidence that may conflict with our presuppositions. Moreover, it is vital that we treat each other's opinions and comments with courtesy even when they diverge and conflict with our own. We must avoid personal attacks and the use of ad hominem arguments to invalidate each other's positions. Instead, we must develop a culture of civil argumentation, wherein all positions have the right to be defended and argued against in intellectually reasoned ways. It is this standard that everyone must accept in order to stay in this class; a standard that applies to all inquiry in the university, but whose observance is especially important in a course whose subject matter is so emotionally charged.

Gender Inclusive Language Statement

Language is gender-inclusive and non-sexist when we use words that affirm and respect how people describe, express, and experience their gender. Just as sexist language excludes women's experiences, non-gender-inclusive language excludes the experiences of individuals whose identities may not fit the gender binary, and/or who may not identify with the sex they were assigned at birth. Identities including trans, intersex, and genderqueer reflect personal descriptions, expressions, and experiences. Gender-inclusive/non-sexist language acknowledges people of any gender (for example, first year student versus freshman, chair versus chairman, humankind versus mankind, etc.). It also affirms non-binary gender identifications and recognizes the difference between biological sex and gender expression. Students, faculty, and staff may share their pronouns.

Civil Rights and Title IX

The University of Pittsburgh does not tolerate any form of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation based on disability, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, genetic information, marital status, familial status, sex, age, sexual orientation, veteran status or gender identity or other factors as stated in the University's Title IX policy. The University is committed to taking prompt action to end a hostile environment that interferes with the University's mission. For more information about policies, procedures, and practices, visit the Civil Rights & Title IX Compliance web page.

I ask that everyone in the class strive to help ensure that other members of this class can learn in a supportive and respectful environment. If there are instances of the aforementioned issues, please contact the Title IX Coordinator, by calling 412-648-7860, or e-mailing titleixcoordinator@pitt.edu. Reports can also be filed online. You may also choose to report this to a faculty/staff member; they are required to communicate this to the University's Office of Institutional Engagement and Wellbeing. If you wish to maintain complete confidentiality, you may also contact the University Counseling Center (412-648-7930).

Disability Services: If you have a disability for which you are or may be requesting an accommodation, you are encouraged to contact both your instructor and Disability Resources and Services (DRS), 140 William Pitt Union, (412) 648-7890, drsrecep@pitt.edu, (412) 228-5347 for P3 ASL users, as early as possible in the term. DRS will verify your disability and determine reasonable accommodations for this course.

Classes Meeting During University-wide Closure

As articulated in the University-wide Closure and Class Cancellation Policy, it is the policy of the University of Pittsburgh to remain open, but in rare instances, circumstances beyond the University's control may necessitate a closure of the University. Such circumstances may include severe weather, power outage, water main issues, and the like.

If feasible during a closure, I intend for our class to meet remotely at its regularly scheduled time. I will share a Zoom link as soon as this decision is made. Refer to our class attendance policy if you are unable to attend.

Academic Integrity Guidelines

Students in this course will be expected to comply with the University of Pittsburgh's Policy on Academic Integrity. Any student suspected of violating this obligation for any reason during the semester will be required to participate in the procedural process, initiated at the instructor level, as outlined in the University Guidelines on Academic Integrity. This may include, but is not limited to, the confiscation of the examination of any individual suspected of violating University Policy. Furthermore, no student may bring any unauthorized materials to an exam, including dictionaries and programmable calculators.

To learn more about Academic Integrity, visit the Academic Integrity Guide for an overview of the topic. For hands-on practice, complete the Academic Integrity Modules.

Grievance Procedures

The purpose of grievance procedures is to ensure the rights and responsibilities of faculty and students in their relationships with each other. When a student in the EdD program believes that a faculty member has not met his or her obligations (as an instructor or in another capacity) as described in the Academic Integrity Guidelines, the student should follow the procedure described in the Guidelines (See below) by: (1) first trying to resolve the matter with the faculty member directly; (2) then, if needed, attempting to resolve the matter through conversations with the chair/associate chair of the department; (3) if needed, next talking to the associate dean of the school; and (4) if needed, filing a written statement of charges with the school-level academic integrity officer.

The more specific procedure for student grievances is as follows:

1. The student should talk to the faculty member to attempt to resolve the matter.
2. If the matter cannot be resolved at that level, the student should talk to the relevant department chair or associate chair (if the issue concerns a class) or his or her advisor.
3. If the matter remains unresolved, the student should talk to the director of the EdD program, Dr. Rachel Robertson.
4. If needed, the student should next talk to the SOE associate dean of students, Dr. Andrea Zito. If the matter still remains unresolved, the student should file a written statement of charges with the dean's designated Academic Integrity Administrative Officer.

The School of Education Policies and Forms page on the SOE website explains several policies and procedures, including academic probation, course repeats, leaves of absence, monitored withdrawal, transfer credits, and statute of limitations.

The Pitt Concern Connection

The University of Pittsburgh strives to build and maintain a positive and healthy working, learning, and living environment. Reporting concerns and asking questions can minimize the potential negative impact of inappropriate conduct on the University and our employees, faculty, and students. Reporting can help improve our culture and operations by identifying issues that require attention.

The Office of Compliance, Investigations and Ethics is a dedicated reporting system where University members can elevate irregular or troublesome workplace, campus, and other issues so that they can be reviewed, addressed, and resolved. Report an issue or ask a question online, by telephone, or via text message.

This is not an emergency service. Immediate, life-threatening safety concerns should be reported to 911 or by contacting your local University police or security department.

Food/Housing Insecurity

Many students, both undergraduate and graduate, experience housing and/or food insecurity that can impact their academic work and general health. Please know there are resources available to you that are confidential. Of course, you are welcome to speak with me if you need support in contacting the right people/offices:

Pitt Pantry: Food Pantry available to the wider University community
<https://www.studentaffairs.pitt.edu/pittserves/sustain/pantry/>

Off-Campus Housing Office: <http://www.ocl.pitt.edu/>

Your Well-being Matters

College/Graduate school can be an exciting and challenging time for students. Taking time to care for yourself and seeking appropriate support can help you achieve your academic and professional goals. You are encouraged to maintain a healthy lifestyle by eating a balanced diet, exercising regularly, avoiding drugs and alcohol, getting enough sleep, and taking time to relax.

It can be helpful to remember that we all benefit from assistance and guidance at times, and there are many resources available to support your well-being while you are at Pitt. If you or anyone you know experiences overwhelming academic stress, persistent difficult feelings and/or challenging life events, you are strongly encouraged to seek support. In addition to reaching out to friends and loved ones, consider connecting with a faculty member you trust for assistance connecting to helpful resources. The University Counseling Center is also here for you. You can call 412-648-7930 at any time to connect with a clinician. You can also visit the Counseling Center website.

If you or someone you know is feeling suicidal, please call the University Counseling Center at any time at 412-648-7930.

You can also contact Resolve Crisis Network at 888-796-8226. If the situation is life threatening, call Pitt Police at 412-624-2121 or dial 911.

If the situation is life threatening, call the Police:

- On-campus: Pitt Police: 412-268-2121
- Off-campus: 911

Additional Resources:

Religious Observances: The observance of religious holidays (activities observed by a religious group of which a student is a member) and cultural practices are an important reflection of diversity. As your instructor, I am committed to providing equivalent educational opportunities to students of all belief systems. At the beginning of the semester, you should review the course requirements to identify foreseeable conflicts with assignments, exams, or other required attendance. If at all possible, please contact me (your course instructor) within the first two weeks of the first class meeting to allow time for us to discuss and make fair and reasonable adjustments to the schedule and/or tasks.

Catalogs: The University Catalogs have comprehensive information about policies, programs, and courses. There are University-level policies and policies specific to the School of Education. Bookmark these links and review these documents periodically.

Sexual Misconduct, Required Reporting, and Title IX

If you are experiencing sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic violence, and stalking, please report it to me and I will connect you to University resources to support you.

University faculty and staff members are required to report all instances of sexual misconduct, including harassment and sexual violence to the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX. When a report is made, individuals can expect to be contacted by the Title IX Office with information about support resources and options related to safety, accommodations, process, and policy. I encourage you to use the services and resources that may be most helpful to you.

As your professor, I am required to report any incidents of sexual misconduct that are directly reported to me. You can also report directly to Office of Civil Rights and Title IX: 412-648-7860 (M-F; 8:30am-5:00pm) or via the Pitt Concern Connection at: Make A Report

An important exception to the reporting requirement exists for academic work. Disclosures about sexual misconduct that are shared as a relevant part of an academic project, classroom discussion, or course assignment, are not required to be disclosed to the University's Title IX office.

If you wish to make a confidential report, Pitt encourages you to reach out to these resources:

- The University Counseling Center: 412-648-7930 (8:30 A.M. TO 5 P.M. M-F) and 412-648-7856 (AFTER BUSINESS HOURS)
- Pittsburgh Action Against Rape (community resource): 1-866-363-7273 (24/7)

If you have an immediate safety concern, please contact the University of Pittsburgh Police, 412-624-2121

Any form of sexual harassment or violence will not be excused or tolerated at the University of Pittsburgh.

Optional Additional Resources:

Care & Resource Support: Connect with resources like an on-campus food pantry and thrift store, as well as Care Advocates.

Career Center: Students can explore careers, learn about internships and networking, find career resources, and more

Counseling Center: The mission of the University Counseling Center is to create an inclusive space and provide high quality services that support the emotional well-being of Pitt's diverse student body.

Financial Aid Office: Learn more about financial aid, including FASFA, and connect with individuals who can answer questions

Financial Wellness Center: The Financial Wellness Center aims to equip students with the personal finance skills to take control of their finances now and in the future.

OIS: The Office of International Services (OIS) provides immigration-related services for international visitors, students, faculty, researchers, and staff at the University of Pittsburgh

Thrive at Pitt: Connect with information about well-being and resources to help you thrive at Pitt.

Tutoring and Academic Coaching: Tutoring can be provided by a student, mentor, or instructor to help with learning course concepts, while academic coaching involves meeting one-on-one with a trained academic coach to improve skills like test-taking, exploring majors and careers, and time management

Writing Center: Staffed by experienced consultants, the Writing Center provides a place for all University of Pittsburgh students to come to work on their writing.
